

THE DIDACTIC PILLS

The 4G Didactic Pills project is based on the Communication from the Commission to the European Parliament, the Council, the European Economic and Social Committee, and the Committee of the Regions entitled «Tackling early school leaving: A key contribution to the Europe 2020 Agenda».

The project aims to produce short multimedia content which we have called «Didactic Pills» (for use with PC/Mac, tablet, or smartphone) addressing the "life skills" (LIFE SKILLS) whose importance has been underlined by many European documents. The Teaching Pills present problematic stories and different options for dealing with them.

The Didactic Pills aim to stimulate students to reflect and to encourage discussion among peers and teachers to make students better understand the importance of acquiring life skills. The 'Teaching Pills' will be tested in schools in the partner countries to develop life skills as part of an overall objective to reduce early school leaving, with a focus on SEN. In this sense, the use of multimedia tools is a facilitator for learning in general. The realization of the "teaching pills" on life skills was based on the collection of "stimulus stories" realized by the partners specifically for this project.

The activities – Testing

The experimental activity of the pills produced addressed to 2 classes 40 students for each school involved will be leaded by every National partner, including production of tool to verify if the pills are effective and useful. The pills created will be delivered to one class for each school involved in the project, paying particular attention to SEN students.

It is precisely on the basis of these results that we each partner realized the design of the material, contents and activities that will be used and implemented during the training of teachers with SEN.
